STEEPED IN HISTORY

This Grand Old house needs a little care and attention to bring it back to its former glory.

Originally built around the turn of the century on a ¼ acre section this home is around 230sqm, with double garaging adding a further 48 sqm.

With huge rooms and high ceilings, gas underfloor heating, stained glass, ornate fittings and native timbers it is well worth the effort for someone looking for a project or for a big family to live in while they work to build a great asset in this very central popular location.

Close to schools, shops and parks it would be hard to find this much potential for this great price outside of Stratford.
